Transitional Provisions

Strata Property Act* transition – electronic attendance at meetings

- 28 (1) In this section:
- “strata property meeting” means an annual or special general meeting of a strata corporation;
 - “transition period” means the period beginning on the date this section comes into force and ending 4 months after the date this section comes into force.
- (2) Despite sections 45 and 49 of the Strata Property Act and any bylaw of a strata corporation, a strata corporation may provide for attendance and voting by telephone or other electronic means at a strata property meeting held during the transition period if the electronic means enable all persons attending the meeting to communicate with each other.
- (3) A person who attends a strata property meeting as provided for under subsection (2) is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

Strata Property Act* transition – notice to end tenancy agreement

- 29 (1) In this section:
- “effective date” means the date on which section 19 of this Act comes into force;
 - “former provision” means section 145 of the Strata Property Act, as it read immediately before the effective date;
 - “notice” means notice given by a tenant under the former provision.
- (2) Subject to subsection (4), if a tenant gives notice before the effective date, the tenant may revoke the notice within 30 days after the effective date.
- (3) If a tenant revokes a notice, the tenancy agreement between the tenant and the landlord has the same effect as if the notice had not been given.
- (4) A tenant may not revoke a notice under subsection (2) if, before the effective date,
- (a) the tenant vacated the strata lot,
 - (b) the landlord entered into a tenancy agreement, to begin after the tenant vacates the strata lot, with a new tenant for the strata lot, or
 - (c) the landlord paid reasonable moving expenses to the tenant under the former provision, unless the tenant has repaid the landlord for those expenses.
- (5) If a tenant gives notice before the effective date and does not revoke the notice under subsection (2), the former provision continues to apply in relation to the tenant and the tenant’s landlord.
