Thursday, November 30, 2023

ONE O’CLOCK P.M.

The Speaker delivered his reserved decision as follows:

Honourable Members:

The Chair is prepared to rule on the questions of privilege raised earlier today by the Official Opposition House Leader and the Third Party House Leader, both of which were taken under advisement. While unusual, the crux of the matter outlined in both Members’ grievances in raising their questions of privileges is the same, so the Chair will deliver one ruling. The Chair thanks the Members for following the proper procedure for raising a question of privilege and is grateful to the Official Opposition House Leader and the Third Party House Leader for their thoughtful submissions and to the Government House Leader for his responses. In the interests of time and in an attempt to return to the House with all possible expediency, the Chair’s ruling will be brief.

The Official Opposition House Leader and the Third Party House Leader outlined in their submissions their view that the Government House Leader misled the House in his remarks prior to moving a time allocation motion under Standing Order 81.1 on November 29, 2023. An imputation with respect to a Member misleading this House is a very serious matter that the Chair must approach with utmost care.

In deciding on such a matter, the Chair must examine any evidence that: proves that the statement was misleading; establishes that the Member (in this case, the Government House Leader) making the statement knew at the time that the statement was incorrect; and, proves the Member intended to mislead the House in making the statement.

In reviewing the submissions made to the Chair, the dispute at hand appears to be a matter of disagreement about interpretation about the words spoken by the Government House Leader when he informed the House that a consensus could not be reached amongst the parties. As the Chair noted in a ruling only yesterday, a disagreement or debate between two Members is not a matter for the Chair to weigh into or adjudicate.

As such, it is the ruling of the Chair that a prima facie breach of privilege has not occurred.

Prior to concluding, the Chair will note an awareness of the frustrations that exist around the management of House business—a frustration that is rooted in a genuine desire that all Members have to undertake their parliamentary duties and to fulfill the democratic process.

The Chair acknowledges that the House Leaders have a key role in ensuring the smooth operations of this House. In the coming weeks, the Chair will take it upon himself to work with the House Leaders to find a better and more collaborative way forward prior to the resumption of House sittings in 2024.

HON. RAJ CHOUHAN, Speaker
